TESTIFY REGARDING CLASSIFICATION OF PUBLISHED MATERIAL. DOD ALSO REQUESTED TO OBTAIN THE EFFECTS OF DISCLOSURES CONTAINED, IN QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE SERIES CONCERNING UNITED STATES DASH VIETNAM POLICY, COULD BE EXPECTED TO HAVE ON THE NATIONAL SECURITY OF THE UNITED STATES.

DOD AGREED TO REVIEW QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE ARITCLES IN DEPTH AND MADE DETAILED COMPARISON OF INFORMATION IN QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE SERIES WITH INFORMATION IN THE FORTY-SEVEN VOLUME OSD VIETNAM TASK FORCE STUDY.

DOD PERSONNEL NOTED THAT SOME DOCUMENTS ARE DUPLICATED VERBATIM IN THE VIETNAM TASK FORCE STUDY AND OTHERS ARE REFERRED TO IN FOOTNOTES TO THIS STUDY. DOD FURTHER POINTED OUT THAT SOME OF THE MATERIAL IN QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE SERIES IS NOT CONTAINED IN THE FORTY-SEVEN VOLUME VIETNAM STUDY. DOD PRESENTLY IN PROCESS OF OBTAINING COPIES OF ALL COMMUNICATION DOCUMENTS REFERRED TO IN QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE SERIES, BUT NOT CONTAINED IN ANY OF THE FORTY-SEVEN VOLUMES OF THE VIETNAM STUDY.

INVOLVED IN MAKING QUOTE DAMAGE ASSESSMENT UNQUOTE REGARDING UNITED STATES QUOTE CRYPTO UNQUOTE COMPROMISE CONTAINED IN PUBLIC DISCLOSURES OF THE FORTY-SEVEN VOLUME VIETNAM STUDY.

REGARDING ACCOUNTABILITY OF TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS, DOD OFFICIALS FURNISHED A COPY OF A HANDWRITTEN QUOTE VIETNAM TASK FORCE REPORT UNQUOTE INVENTORY PRESUMABLY PREPARED BY GENERAL ROBERT HIXON AND MAINTAINED IN OSD, AND A COPY OF THE OSD CORRESPONDENCE CONTROL SECTION CONTROL AND SIGNATURE SHEET REPORTING THE CONTROL OF THE FORMAL TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS. GENERAL HIXON'S INVENTORY DISCLOSED THE EXISTENCE OF FIFTEEN SETS OF VIETNAM TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS AND SHOWING DISTRIBUTION TO MR. MC NAMARA (1) AT THE WORLD BANK; MR. CLARK (2) CLIFFORD AT HIS LAW OFFICE; MR. WILLIAM (3) BUNDY AND MR. NICHOLAS (4) KATZENBACH AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT; (5) RAND CORPORATION IN CALIFORNIA; (6) RAND CORPORATION IN WASHINGTON, D. C. (WDC); TWO COPIES (7) - (8) TO DOCTOR REED AT NATIONAL ARCHIVES; AND REMAINING SIX COPIES (9) - (14) IN VAULT OF OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF DEFENSE AND ONE COPY (15) IN SAFE OF GENERALS HIXON AND ROBERT

PURSLEY IN SECRETARY'S OFFICE. OSD CONTROL AND SIGNATURE SHEET IS CONSISTENT WITH HIXON'S INVENTORY EXCEPT THAT IT DOES NOT SHOW THE SEVEN SETS RETAINED IN THE VAULT AND SAFE OF SECRETARY'S OFFICE WHICH WERE NEVER SURRENDERED FOR CONTROL PURPOSES. LOFDAHL ADVISED THAT ALL TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS IDENTIFIED IN HIXON'S INVENTORY AND OSD CONTROL SHEET HAVE BEEN CHECKED AND ACCOUNTED FOR AND ARE COMPLETE.

[redacted] FURNISHED A COPY OF A LETTER FORWARDED BY OSD GENERAL COUNSEL J. FRED BUZHARDT TO THE RAND CORPORATION, WDC, DATED JUNE SIXTEEN LAST WHICH REQUESTED RAND RETURN THE FULL SET OF DOCUMENTS PREVIOUSLY CHARGED TO RAND TOGETHER WITH A SIMILIAR SET OF DOCUMENTS IN THE RAND INVENTORY CONSISTING OF THIRTY-SEVEN BLUE COVERED VOLUMES IDENTIFIED AS QUOTE COPY NUMBER ONE OF FIVE COPIES UNQUOTE. THE LETTER NOTED THAT INFORMATION IN THESE VOLUMES IS DEFENSE INFORMATION.

[redacted] AND LOFDAHL WERE UNAWARE OF THE CONTENTS OF THE THIRTY-SEVEN VOLUME SET POINTING OUT THAT IT HAD BEEN TAKEN BY MR. BUZHARDT TO NEW YORK IN CONNECTION WITH THE

CURRENT COURT INJUNCTION HEARING INVOLVING THE NEW YORK QUOTE TIMES UNQUOTE TO BE HELD THERE ON JUNE EIGHTEEN NEXT. LOFDAHL POINTED OUT THAT AS YET NO RECORD OF ACCOUNTABILITY OF THE THIRTY SEVEN VOLUME SET AND THE ADDITIONAL FOUR SETS SUGGESTED BY THE COPY COUNT HAS BEEN LOCATED.

DEFENSE OFFICIALS ADVISED THAT UPON MR. BUZHARDT'S RETURN THAT THESE DOCUMENTS WOULD BE COMPARED WITH THE FULL SET OF TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS AND AN EVALUATION MADE CONCERNING THEIR ORIGIN, CONTENT, AND ACCOUNTABILITY.

LOFDAHL, REGARDING THE REPORTED STUDY OF TONKIN GULF INCIDENT, ADVISED THAT THERE IS NO INDICATION THAT INFORMATION FROM THIS REPORT HAS BEEN DISCLOSED TO DATE IN THE QUOTE NEW YORK TIMES UNQUOTE ARITCLES. HE POINTED OUT THAT THIS WAS A SEPARATE STUDY CONTROLLED BY JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF AND THAT HE IS UNAWARE OF THE CONTROL AND DISTRIBUTION OF THIS DOCUMENT, HOWEVER, IT IS HIS UNDERSTANDING THAT IT IS A VERY CLOSELY CONTROLLED MATTER AND KNOWS OF THE EXISTENCE OF ONLY ONE COPY WHICH IS MAINTAINED BY THE OFFICE OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF.

END PAGE FIVE

IN VIEW OF INFORMATION INDICTATING THAT GENERAL ROBERT PURSLEY PRESENTLY ASSIGNED AT THE PENTAGON MAY HAVE ADDITIONAL KNOWLEDGE CONERNING THE REPRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE VIETNAM TASK FORCE DOCUMENTS, HE WILL BE INTERVIEWED, UNLESS ADVISED TO THE CONTRARY BY THE BUREAU. P.

KENNEDY ERA. HE BELIEVES THAT THE "JOHNSON PAPERS" MAY HAVE COME FROM THE THIRTY EIGHT VOLUME PRELIMINARY STUDY, ON WHICH THE FINAL STUDY WAS WRITTEN. THIS DOES NOT APPEAR REASONABLE TO LOS ANGELES AS THE "MC NAMARA STUDY" ENDED WITH THE YEAR NINETEEN SIXTY SEVEN, LONG AFTER JOHNSON WAS PRESIDENT, AND IF PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S ROLE WAS INCLUDED IN THE PRELIMINARY STUDY, IT WOULD MOST CERTAINLY HAVE BEEN INCORPORATED INTO THE FINAL STUDY.

Date 6/29/71

Major General EDWARD GEARY LANSDALE, United States Air Force (Retired) was interviewed and furnished the following information:

General LANSDALE does not recall when he first met DANIEL ELLSBERG but stated that he had attended several seminars in 1964 or 1965 at which ELLSBERG was in attendance. As he recalled, ELLSBERG was at that time employed either by the United States Department of Defense or by the Rand Corporation in Santa Monica, California. General LANSDALE was at this time retired but was serving as a Consultant on the White House Staff for the "Food For Peace" program which program was concerned with the distribution of surplus United States foods to needy foreign countries. General LANSDALE noted that in these seminars in which ELLSBERG was in attendance he noted that ELLSBERG was a highly articulate and a very bright person. He stated that ELLSBERG stood out among the participants as a person with definite views of his own, and unusual slants on problems encountered. He stated that ELLSBERG made a good impression in these seminars. In one of these sessions held in 1965 by the Department of Defense in Washington, D.C., at which HENRY CABOT LODGE attended, along with a number of foreign service and military service people, General LANSDALE suggested the need for a "political base" in Vietnam, as a result of all of the coups which had taken place there. After General LANSDALE had brought this matter up, ELLSBERG was very eloquent in support of the General's views with regard to a stabilized political base in Vietnam. Very shortly after this seminar, in about June of 1965, LODGE informed General LANSDALE that the President was appointing him as Ambassador, and that LODGE had discussed General LANSDALE's going out as an Assistant to LODGE in Vietnam, to implement his ideas on establishing a sound political base there. LANSDALE felt the need of additional people to assist him in this project, and ELLSBERG was one of those he asked to join him in Vietnam. LANSDALE stated that he believed that at that time ELLSBERG was employed by the Department of Defense in the Office of International Security Affairs, Office of the Secretary of Defense.

In addition to ELLSBERG, LANSDALE also asked a number of persons who had served with him in Vietnam previously to assist him in this new project. These individuals were:

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

1. Colonel [redacted], United States Army, now serving at the Pentagon as Deputy Administrator for the Defense Intelligence Agency. b6 b7C

2. [redacted], employed by the United States Information Agency, presently serving in Manila.

[redacted] b3 b7E

6. [redacted] a former Philippine citizen, presently a citizen of the United States, who now lives in Bethesda, Maryland, and is connected with an International Police Academy. b6 b7C

7. [redacted], who is an engineer and economic consultant, operating his own consultant business in Washington, D.C.

General LANSDALE stated that in Vietnam he served as the Senior Liaison Officer of the United States Mission in Vietnam. He stated that he held the rank of Minister in the United States Foreign Service, United States Department of State. He stated that all of the above named men coming under him were on temporary assignment to the Department of State. General LANSDALE stated that he arrived in Vietnam in August, 1965, and the above group of men came in a week or two later. He stated that all of them had arrived in Vietnam by September, 1965. General LANSDALE said that the job stayed in effect until June, 1968, however, the composition of personnel changed from time to time.

With regard to ELLSBERG, General LANSDALE stated that he was in on the beginnings of the working out of the pacification campaign efforts in Vietnam. ELLSBERG's principal work in Vietnam was doing staff studies for General LANSDALE. In addition to this ELLSBERG handled some economic problems for the Ambassador. General LANSDALE explained that some of the economic problems concerned the enemy's buying of rice in South Vietnam and things of that nature which were on the order of economic warfare. General

LANSDALE stated that he used ELLSBERG for checking on specific problems in pacification work. He stated that ELLSBERG's duties included going out into the provinces and checking on the United States supporting programs there, both civilian and military. This was all a part of the counter-insurgency program.

General LANSDALE stated that the coordination role that the General was trying to do was reorganized early in 1966, and this portion of General LANSDALE's work was taken over by WILLIAM PORTER, Deputy United States Ambassador in Vietnam, presently United States Ambassador in Korea. PORTER asked for ELLSBERG's services at the time that he took over from General LANSDALE, PORTER having been impressed with Ellsberg's "brightness," and as a result ELLSBERG was transferred to PORTER's unit. After that ELLSBERG worked on the Coordination of Pacification, under WILLIAM PORTER. During the time that ELLSBERG worked for PORTER, General LANSDALE saw ELLSBERG frequently, when the latter dropped in from time to time to discuss the work that he was doing. Some months afterwards, ELLSBERG came down with an attack of hepatitis, and was on convalescent leave for a rather long period of time. During his convalescence, ELLSBERG took a beach cottage in Thailand for some weeks. Not too long after that toward the end of 1966 or early 1967 ELLSBERG returned back to the United States.

General LANSDALE stated that at the time that he knew ELLSBERG in Vietnam the latter was completely in favor of the United States helping the South Vietnamese in the war effort. He stated that there was no question in ELLSBERG's mind at that time as to whether or not the United States should be in Vietnam. General LANSDALE explained that because of the various United States organizations serving in Vietnam there was much criticism among the various agencies concerning the ways in which the various organizations were implementing United States policies, but all of this criticism was administrative, within the United States establishment there, and was for the purpose of doing a better job there. General LANSDALE went on to explain that in the normal working situation certain things are always in need of correction because of the conflicts between and among the various programs undertaken, and differing attitudes of the men involved. He stated that changes were made in the usual way that changes are executed in our system of government and noted that frequently policy was thrashed out in meetings of various United States personnel. He said that ELLSBERG was a very intense person, very excitable, and always very eloquent in his viewpoint when present in these meetings. As a result PORTER used ELLSBERG as his spokesman at these various meetings, as had General LANSDALE before him.

General LANSDALE stated that ELLSBERG got his main experience in the provinces in Vietnam under the wing and guidance of JOHN VANN, who was a provincial representative for the Agency for International Development. General LANSDALE described VANN as a retired Colonel, United States Army, who is presently in Vietnam as a Regional Representative for CORDS (Civil Operation and Revolutionary Development Support), the organization having to do with the counter-insurgence and pacification program being carried out in Vietnam by the United States. General LANSDALE explained that the organization CORDS was formed by the United States in Vietnam after both PORTER and ELLSBERG had left Vietnam.

General LANSDALE stated that JOHN VANN became ELLSBERG's closest friend in Vietnam. General LANSDALE stated that JOHN VANN is probably really shocked by ELLSBERG's actions with regards to the recent disclosures in "The New York Times" newspaper articles concerning United States policies in Vietnam from 1945 to 1967. General LANSDALE described VANN as a very dedicated American who has spent years in Vietnam trying to defeat the enemy there. He stated that JOHN VANN knew the "realities" in the provinces of Vietnam "as well or better" than any other American. He stated that VANN was close to being a "hawk" and definitely was not a "dove."

General LANSDALE stayed in Vietnam until June of 1968. When he returned to the United States he next saw ELLSBERG at Rand Corporation in Santa Monica, California, in the Fall of 1968, and while in Santa Monica, General LANSDALE hosted a supper meeting at his beach cottage in Malibu, California. Present at this supper meeting were about a dozen officials of the Rand Corporation, whose names General LANSDALE does not at this time recall. He stated there was a "far ranging" discussion concerning Vietnam and problems there, but he recalled nothing of significance stated regarding Vietnam and at this time he cannot recall ELLSBERG's views stated at this supper meeting. General LANSDALE next saw ELLSBERG in his present home some time in 1970, a month or so before ELLSBERG was married for the second time. He stated that at that time ELLSBERG had dropped in for a friendly visit and brought with him [redacted] whom he later married. ELLSBERG told General LANSDALE that he wanted to let him know that he planned to marry [redacted] A month or so later ELLSBERG telephoned General LANSDALE from New York to let him know that he was getting married in a very short time. b6 b7C

Concerning [redacted] General LANSDALE advised that she had been in Vietnam for a visit in late 1965 or early 1966, and it was General LANSDALE's impression that she was "chasing" ELLSBERG at that time. General LANSDALE said that ELLSBERG had been divorced before he had become acquainted with him. He further stated that [redacted] and had donated toys for distribution to Vietnam orphans, as had WALT DISNEY of Hollywood Fame. General LANSDALE was of the opinion that [redacted] had talked [redacted] into donating these toys because of her interest in ELLSBERG. b6 b7C

During [redacted] visit to Vietnam, according to General LANSDALE, she was full of "academic arguments" against the United States involvement in the war there. He said that her line of argument was similar to those presented in campus activities that were taking place in the United States at that time (1965-1966). General LANSDALE at that time told her that she was in the wrong country (Vietnam) to argue against the morality of the war as far as the United States was concerned. He stated that it was his understanding that [redacted] had participated in some early sit-ins in which some of our so-called leading intellectuals had been involved in about the year 1964. He said that she reflected the earlier, not so violent views, which mostly questioned the morality of United States actions in Vietnam. Although she thought it was mostly a question of lack of morality on the part of the United States to be involved in Vietnam, she was not the "burn the draft card type" of person. He stated that as he recalled, [redacted] had stayed in Vietnam on this visit for about a week. b6 b7C

General LANSDALE stated that at this time, during the visit to Vietnam of [redacted] ELLSBERG's ideas did not jibe with hers, but said that on the other hand he did not recall ELLSBERG arguing against her point of view. However, in previously expressed views by ELLSBERG at that time, General LANSDALE knew that he was not anti-United States policy there. General LANSDALE saw [redacted] on several occasions when she visited Vietnam, but said that the only time she had voiced her views concerning the morality of the war was at a luncheon which was given by the General at his quarters in Vietnam. b6 b7C

General LANSDALE stated that he has not seen ELLSBERG since his marriage to [redacted] He stated that ELLSBERG's apparent change of feelings concerning the United State's is something entirely new to him. He said, however, that he is not too shocked by this change because ELLSBERG was such an intense man. General LANSDALE added that "intellectuals are sometimes strange people."

In reflecting on this matter of ELLSBERG having furnished classified information to "The New York Times" newspaper, General LANSDALE conjectured that the answers to ELLSBERG's chameleonic views concerning the United States involvement in Vietnam, could be attributed to one of three things, or possibly a combination of all of them. He named these as:

1. ELLSBERG's associates at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

2. The group with whom ELLSBERG worked at Rand Corporation in Santa Monica.

3. ELLSBERG's wife's influence of him, because of her personal views concerning the United States involvement in Vietnam.

General LANSDALE recalled that some time ago there was a group of employees at the Rand Corporation who had signed some kind of protest document, or open letter, criticizing United States policy in Vietnam. At that time, when ELLSBERG was terminating his employment with Rand, he called General LANSDALE and told him that he was going to do something which General LANSDALE would not approve. He then told General LANSDALE that he was signing this protest document or letter which was signed by four other Rand employees, all of whom were leaving Rand employment at that time. General LANSDALE did not know the identities of the other signers of this document or letter but stated that these people were evidently associates of ELLSBERG and were possibly responsible for his change of mind concerning United States Vietnam policy. General LANSDALE said that he did not know whether or not the other signers of this document or letter had worked on the Vietnam study, but his guess was that they probably worked on the Rand copy of the study. General LANSDALE further recalled that this open letter or document which had been signed by these five former Rand employees was sent to a number of newspapers including "The New York Times". General LANSDALE stated that after resigning from Rand Corporation in California, ELLSBERG went to work immediately for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Concerning ELLSBERG's [redacted] General LANSDALE brought to mind one incident which he thought might have some significance with regards to ELLSBERG's feelings concerning his [redacted] and [redacted] General LANSDALE stated that in May or June of 1966, he had come to the United States from Vietnam for consultations. He stated that he had previously lived near Los Angeles and when ELLSBERG, who was still in Vietnam, found that he was going through Los Angeles, he asked him to stop by [redacted] California, which is between Santa Monica and Los Angeles, and see [redacted] He told General LANSDALE at that time not to bother saying anything to [redacted] because she would not be interested, but to tell [redacted] is all right." General LANSDALE did stop by the home of [redacted] and talked through a locked door to [redacted] General LANSDALE explained that [redacted] and [redacted] were away from the house at the time, and that the daughter told him through the locked door that [redacted] had told her not to open the door if anyone knocked. General LANSDALE imparted [redacted] message to [redacted] and she then asked him to tell [redacted] that he had promised to [redacted] In summing up, General LANSDALE stated that although he himself had never met [redacted] or either of the [redacted] except as indicated, ELLSBERG evidently had tremendous affection for [redacted] but not much for [redacted] He stated that it was his impression that [redacted]

General LANSDALE stated that there was one point he would like to make and that is that ELLSBERG is an academic intellectual type of person who had been working in the "cloistered atmosphere" of Washington, the military and Rand Corporation, and as a result [redacted]

[redacted]

General LANSDALE pointed out that ELLSBERG, while in Vietnam, was a reserve officer in the Marine Corps, and while there in 1966 volunteered for two weeks of active duty. He stated that during that time ELLSBERG actually went on patrol with United States Marine Corps troops and saw combat. He stated that at this time ELLSBERG was on WILLIAM PORTER's staff rather than on his own. He noted that as a Lieutenant in the Reserves, ELLSBERG would have at least led a platoon of Marines in combat during his two weeks tour of active duty in Vietnam but General LANSDALE said that he supposed that

DETAILS

1. Basis for Investigation

This investigation was instituted on June 15, 1971, at the request of the Attorney General of the United States, who requested that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) interview Brigadier General ROBERT HIXON and Dr. LESLIE H. GELB and conduct necessary investigation to determine how "The New York Times" secured the material which it began publishing in its newspaper in a series of articles beginning June 13, 1971, captioned, "A History of the Decision-Making Process of the United States on Vietnam Policy for the Period 1945 to 1967".

2. Interviews of Dr. LESLIE H. GELB, former Chairman, Vietnam Task Force Study

Set forth hereinafter are the results of interviews of Dr. LESLIE H. GELB, who served as Chairman of the Office of the Secretary of Defense Task Force which prepared a classified United States Department of Defense study of the United States involvement in Vietnam from 1945 to 1967.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 6/17/71

Dr. LESLIE H. GELB, Senior Fellow, Brookings Institution, 1775 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC), furnished the following detailed information concerning his knowledge of the classified United States Department of Defense study of United States involvement in Vietnam from 1945 to 1967, together with his analysis, observations and conclusions concerning the disclosure of portions of this study in a series in "The New York Times" which began June 13, 1971.

HISTORY

Dr. GELB recalled that in approximately May, 1967, then Secretary of Defense, ROBERT MC NAMARA, decided that a Department of Defense study should be made of the history of United States involvement in Vietnam. On approximately June 1, 1967, Dr. GELB, who was engaged at the time as Acting Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Policy Planning and Arms Control, was selected by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, JOHN MC NAUGHTON, to serve as director of a Vietnam task force to handle this study. The original study group consisted of six or seven Department of Defense personnel with the initial responsibility to answer approximately one hundred questions prepared by Assistant Secretary MC NAUGHTON and Colonel ROBERT GARD, Military Assistant to Secretary MC NAMARA. The original intention was to confine the study to access to personal files of Secretary MC NAMARA; however, as the study progressed, inquiries broadened to include requests for documents from the Central Intelligence Agency, the Historian's Office of the State Department, and various military offices within the Defense Department. Within six to eight weeks, several hundred additional questions and requirements to complete the study developed and it became apparent that the historical nature of the study would require considerable time and additional personnel to complete.

Interviewed on 6/15/71 at Washington, D. C. File # WFO 65-11613

by SAs BERNARD C. RACHNER and AUBREY S. BRENT :kvn Date dictated 6/16/71

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

As of the Fall of 1967, little progress had been made and Secretary MC NAMARA was advised by memorandum that an additional six-to-eight months would be necessary to complete the study. Personnel requirements continued to increase and at this time several non-Defense personnel were engaged to assist in the study. This procedure continued until approximately November, 1968, when the project was essentially completed and original working papers turned over to Generals ROBERT PURSLEY and ROBERT HIXON in the Office of the Secretary of Defense for reproduction. GELB recalls that the completed study consisted of forty-two or forty-three volumes of about one hundred pages per volume and each volume captioned, "Vietnam Task Force," together with a sub-captioned reference to the specific subject matter contained in each volume.

All volumes were classified, "~~Top Secret~~ - Sensitive," with the exception of 4-5 volumes which were unclassified. Ten or twelve volumes contained documents only.

PERSONNEL

Dr. GELB advised that the original task force staff included Defense military personnel; however, as the study broadened, non-Defense personnel associated with the Institute for Defense Analysis, the Rand Corporation, Hudson Institute, and various universities participated. The staff gradually increased to approximately thirty-six persons and, to the best of Dr. GELB's recollection, the following individuals were the principal participants:

Dr. GELB said that he did not have a formal list of all persons who participated in the task force study and did not know of any office or official who would have one. He said that the only way to reconstruct such a list would be through interviews of some of those involved. Dr. GELB advised that he promised each staff member as they came to the staff that they could write anonymously to preclude their identification with any particular phase of the study and he would do what he could to protect their identities.

SECURITY CONTROL DURING STUDY

Dr. GELB advised that at the outset of the study there was rigid control among staff members of the working documents but that, as the operation grew bigger, security became lax and "boggled the mind" and the ability to account for documents became impractical. Dr. GELB pointed out that all staff members were "senior" people who were well aware of security regulations and, as such, each had full access to staff documents and working papers. Dr. GELB said there was a rule against Xeroxing documents but felt that much Xeroxing by staff members was being done because of the practicality of this type of reproduction. He said that although he never had any reason to believe that any staff member was systematically reproducing documents, it would have been conceivable but not probable for a staff member to have reproduced the forty-two volumes before the study was completed. Dr. GELB is of the opinion that if a complete study had been reproduced it would more likely have been accomplished subsequent to the distribution of the final report.

Dr. GELB admitted that some staff members might have kept Xerox copies of their individual drafts. He doubted, however, that any systematic reproduction could have occurred without his knowledge, pointing out that all material was locked up at night and that any duplication would necessarily have been done during the day time.

REPRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION

Dr. GELB advised that the task force study was completed in approximately November, 1968, and that the original working papers and supporting documents were turned over to Generals ROBERT E. PURSLEY and ROBERT HIXON in the Office of the Secretary of Defense for reproduction. Also turned over to Generals PURSLEY and HIXON were reproductions of some of the volumes which were made for various reasons during the study. Dr. GELB said in some cases as many as five copies of specific volumes were made and estimated that approximately ten volumes had been reproduced in this manner. Dr. GELB said that Generals PURSLEY and HIXON would be the two principal persons with knowledge of the reproduction processes and that he, Dr. GELB, understood only that some of the documents had been retyped for the purpose of improving the reproduction quality.

Dr. GELB advised that he left the Defense Department in early 1969, whereupon he spent a short period at the Rand Corporation prior to assuming his present position at the Brookings Institution. Subsequent to his departure from the Pentagon, he was contacted in April, 1969, by Mr. PAUL WARNKE, who succeeded Mr. JOHN MC NAUGHTON as Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, for the purpose of developing a list of possible recipients of the final report. To the best of his recollection, Dr. GELB recalls that the following individuals and organizations were to receive copies.

ROBERT MC NAMARA, former Secretary of Defense;
CLARK CLIFFORD, former Secretary of Defense;
PAUL NITZE, former Deputy Secretary of Defense;
NICHOLAS DE B KATZENBACH, former Under Secretary of State;
CYRUS VANCE, former Deputy Secretary of Defense, may have received copy;
WILLIAM BUNDY, former Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian and Pacific Affairs;
PAUL WARNKE;
MORTON HALPERIN and LESLIE GELB to receive one set for joint use;
Two copies to National Archives for subsequent distribution to the Johnson and Kennedy Libraries;
Remaining copies to be retained by Department of Defense.

Dr. GELB said he had no knowledge of the disposition of the original working papers and copies turned over to Generals PURSLEY and HIXON or knowledge of the ultimate disposition and access to final reproduced sets with the exception of the set sent care of the Rand Corporation for himself and MORTON HALPERIN. GELB said that as strictly hearsay he heard that people in the State Department had been given access to one or both of the copies sent to KATZENBACK and BUNDY at the State Department. Regarding access, Dr. GELB said that the documents carried a top Defense Department classification of "Top Secret-Sensitive" and that although there were no additional caveats, it could only be assumed that the documents would be maintained in the control of the persons to whom charged.

Concerning the set sent to Rand Corporation, for himself and HALPERIN, Dr. GELB explained that by agreement between PAUL WARNKE, HALPERIN and himself, the President of Rand Corporation, HENRY ROWEN, was authorized complete access to the entire set maintained at the Rand Corporation for security reasons. The same group authorized access to the set to two additional individuals, RICHARD MOORSTEEN and DANIEL ELLSBERG, both of whom worked on the task force staff and who were then full time employees of the Rand Corporation working in the area of Vietnam research. DANIEL ELLSBERG has since left the Rand Corporation and is currently associated with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Dr. GELB added that he did retain possession of a reproduction of approximately fifteen volumes of the original working papers which he felt contained reference material to which staff members might require access during the reproduction process. These reproductions are currently maintained with the full set at the Rand Corporation, Washington, D. C.

The only other access to which Dr. GELB has personal knowledge was the release of the three volume study captioned "Military Pressures Against the North" to approximately 20-25 members of Rand Corporation personnel and other scholars who were in attendance at a one week conference on bureaucratic politics held at Santa Monica, California, in June, 1970. GELB pointed out that this was a classified conference with strict security procedures and that the Rand Corporation could identify the individuals in attendance. GELB said that no reproduction of these documents was authorized at the conference. He added that MORTON HALPERIN and himself made the selection of the document to be released to this group.

GELB said that he had heard, as strictly hearsay, that possibly one or two other individuals associated with the Rand Corporation might have had access to the documents maintained at Rand but that he had no further details. He suggested that the Rand Corporation would have a record of any persons having such access. He said that he personally had reviewed or seen the documents on two occasions since he left the Pentagon, in each instance in the Rand Corporation.

ANALYSIS AND OBSERVATIONS

Dr. GELB recognized some of the material contained in "The New York Times" series to date as being classified material apparently taken from volumes of the task force study entitled "Military Pressures Against the North," "Marines Go Into Danang March, 1965," and "Forty-four Battalion Request". Dr. GELB said he had no personal knowledge of how "The New York Times" came into possession of this material but felt that DANIEL ELLSBERG was a logical suspect. He repeated that RICHARD MOORSTEEN and DANIEL ELLSBERG had been given authorized access to the full set of documents at the Rand Corporation; however, he had no specific knowledge of the security procedures involved in their access at the Rand Corporation. He emphasized that RICHARD MOORSTEEN was, in his mind, a reliable individual who was non-political in his ideology and incapable of a disclosure of the information in question. Dr. GELB said that he did not feel the same regarding ELLSBERG whom he characterized as a "sick man" who had become "radicalized" on the whole Vietnam war.

Dr. GELB went on to explain that shortly after ELLSBERG had been given access to the documents at the Rand Corporation in 1969 (after May but before Fall) he started to talk to various people about the potential release of information in the documents. ELLSBERG reportedly mentioned to ten or twelve people, including Dr. GELB, that he felt it important that the information be made public to let the people know what the war was all about. He became "very radicalized" on the matter. Dr. GELB said that ELLSBERG had also written a letter on the war on an unrecalled date to the editor of "The Washington Post" which criticized President NIXON on the war.

Dr. GELB said that ELLSBERG is very friendly with persons associated with the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS), Washington, D.C., which Institute he characterized as critical of United States foreign policy. He recalled that approximately one year ago a Mr. (first name unknown) [redacted] who is on the staff of the Institute for Policy Studies, came to him for the purpose of interviewing him concerning United States - Vietnam policy. At this time [redacted] told him that IPS was doing a ten part history on Vietnam, pointing out "we have a lot of stuff". In the interview [redacted] also cited some things which in Dr. GELB's opinion were classified and possibly related to the task force study. Dr. GELB seemed to recall that the IPS history was to have been completed about this time but stated that he never heard any more about it following the contact by [redacted] He emphasized that he said nothing more to [redacted] other than to answer a few questions involving information in the public domain. Dr. GELB said that about three or four months ago the "Boston Globe" reported an interview with ELLSBERG wherein ELLSBERG was quoted as saying that only three people, who ELLSBERG identified as GELB, HALPERIN and himself, had read the complete "secret" task force papers and went on to say that anyone who had read the documents would be against the war. GELB said the whole tenure of the article was to the effect that "if you know what we know, you would understand how we feel". The article was written by OLIPHANT.

GELB recalled that ELLSBERG also wrote an article for the "New York Review of Books" wherein he discussed war crimes trials and suggested that anyone involved in the Vietnam war should be prosecuted. Concerning ELLSBERG's war crimes trial philosophy, GELB said that he had been hearing reports for sometime that ELLSBERG had been advocating war trials of ROBERT MC NAMARA and others involved in Vietnam policy making, and that he would also put himself on trial for his own participation.

Dr. GELB recalled three additional incidents which he felt might be pertinent. He displayed a personal letter directed to him by Professor RICHARD H. ULLMAN of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, who added a penned postscript wherein he advised of being told by [redacted], a Professor at Princeton University, that a set of the task force papers seemed to be in circulation among the "New Left types-or that, at least, some materials gleaned from the Task Force seemed to be being leaked." Dr. GELB said that he immediately advised PAUL WARNKE of this information and that it was agreed by them that he should advise MC NAMARA. Dr. GELB went to see MC NAMARA who was quite upset. It was decided that they should not go back to Professor ULLMAN for further information at that time.

A second incident involved an interview of former Secretary of Defense MC NAMARA in 1969 by a "New York Times" reporter wherein Mr. MC NAMARA was quoted in the interview as saying that "he had commissioned a history of the Vietnam war". Dr. GELB said that he was surprised at the time that Mr. MC NAMARA would make such a public disclosure.

The third incident involved a question which appeared in the question and answer portion of "Parade" magazine which asked whether Mr. MC NAMARA had commissioned a study on Vietnam policy. The answer confirmed that MC NAMARA did commission such a study and identified Dr. GELB as the individual in charge of the study. Dr. GELB added that this question and answer column is reportedly written by LLOYD SHEARER under the pen name Sir Walter Scott, pointing out that SHEARER is reportedly a friend of ELLSBERG.

CONCLUSIONS OF DR. GELB

Dr. GELB volunteered his views that the release of the Vietnam Task Force papers could have been made for one of five possible reasons:

(1) To assist the Nixon Administration. He personally rejected this reason.

(2) To influence the vote on the McGovern-Hatfield Vietnam Amendment under consideration in Congress.

(3) To "ruin" any future careers of those who participated in the Vietnam policy decisions, such as MC NAMARA and WILLIAM BUNDY.

(4) To let the American people "know the truth."

(5) To inspire war crimes trials of people responsible for Vietnam policy making.

Dr. GELB concluded he personally could not conceive of any rational reason for anyone to disclose this information and, in his judgment, it would take a "mad man" or "insane man" to do so. He repeated that, in his opinion, DANIEL ELLSBERG was the most logical suspect inasmuch as ELLSBERG necessarily had access to the documents and was capable of their disclosure in view of his condition and attitude concerning the Vietnam situation. Dr. GELB added that he personally was very disturbed over the unauthorized disclosure and that he desired to offer every assistance in this matter in an effort to identify the persons responsible.

MC LEK
(NATIONALITIES INTELLIGENCE)

ReBuairtel 7/7/71 advising of the necessity to get a complete rundown on background of principal suspect Daniel Ellsberg to determine if any of his associates may have come under suspicion in connection with leaks of classified information. It was noted that the President is vitally concerned not only with the Ellsberg case but with all aspects of leaks of classified information of the Executive Branch.

WFO report of SA Bernard C. Rachner 6/28/71 sets forth, beginning on page five, information provided by Dr. Leslie H. Gelb concerning the Task Force under his direction which prepared the "McNamara Study." Dr. Gelb advised that approximately 36 persons had at one time or another been associated with the Task Force and he furnished names of those he could remember and descriptions of the others.

WFO should undertake necessary inquiries to identify all persons who participated in the Task Force; thereafter, review or set forth appropriate leads to have reviewed the results of clearance investigations conducted on these individuals, including Ellsberg. Following should be determined and furnished by teletype followed by report:

(1) Succinct background data on each individual; (2) any derogatory security information which was developed; (3) any information indicating prior associations between Task Force members and Ellsberg; and (4) any information indicating possible connections with leaks of classified material.

If, as result of foregoing, information is developed indicating desirability of interviews with any of these individuals, interviews should be conducted in absence of data which is felt would preclude same. In the latter event, advise Bureau and submit recommendations.

Since many members of the Task Force were associated with Department of Defense, WFO and Alexandria Office should coordinate efforts in handling above.

Expedite.

GIRL FRIEND, HE HAS NEVER MET ANY OF ELLSBERG'S FAMILY OR SOCIAL ACQUAINTANCES. HE STATED HE IS NOT FAMILIAR WITH THE DEGREE OF ASSOCIATION BETWEEN VU VAN THAI AND ELLSBERG EXCEPT FOR THEIR JOB CONNECTION THROUGH THE RAND CORPORATION. HOANG STATED THAT HE BELIEVES THAI IS NOW WORKING SOMEWHERE IN AFRICA AT A HIGH-RANKING POSITION IN THE UN. CONCERNING THAI, HOANG ADVISED THAT HE RECENTLY READ AN ARTICLE ENTITLED, "INTERVIEW WITH VU VAN THAI" WHEREIN THAI MADE A STATEMENT THAT SOUTH VIETNAM WOULD NOT BE THAT BAD OFF UNDER COMMUNISM. HOANG STATED THAT THIS IS INCONSISTENT WITH THAI'S FORMER POSITION AS AMBASSADOR. HOWEVER,

HE ADDED THAT WHILE THAI WAS AMBASSADOR TO THE US, HE MADE SOME TYPE OF PUBLIC STATEMENT THAT ANGERED THE GOVERNMENT OF NATIONALIST CHINA AND CAUSED FRICTION BETWEEN TAIWAN AND SOUTH VIETNAM. HE STATED THAT APPARENTLY AS A RESULT OF THIS FRICTION, THAI WAS REMOVED AS AMBASSADOR TO THE US

HOANG EXPRESSED SURPRISE WHEN HE READ THAT ELLSBERG HAD BEEN IDENTIFIED AS THE SOURCE OF CLASSIFIED DOCUMENTS THAT HAD APPEARED IN THE NEWS MEDIA. HOWEVER, HE ~~STATED~~ RECALL~~ING THAT~~ EO IN LATE NINETEEN SIXTYNINE, READING IN THE "WASHINGTON POST" AN ARTICLE CONCERNING DISSENSION ON SOME ISSUE BY A SMALL GROUP OF RAND EMPLOYEES WHICH INCLUDED ELLSBERG. HOANG STATED HE COULD NOT RECALL SPECIFICALLY WHAT THE ISSUE WAS, BUT REMEMBERED THAT IT WAS SOMETHING ABOUT SOUTH VIETNAM. HOANG STATED HE THEN CALLED THE DIRECTOR OF THE RAND CORPORATION TO
